SNAP'D AT RUNWAY 2011 PG 8

RUNWAY 2011

Even though school already ended for most high school students, a select few had one last task to complete. On July 13th, teens from local high schools concocted summer inspired attires for their "Runway 2011...Sugar & Spikes" chic event. It was a special day for many of the students who participated and it was an opportunity for them to show off their designs. Guests, friends, family members and other students were graced with some fantastic and chic designs. The cat walk was filled with summery outfits from casual to business, slippers to high heels, and some colourful season inspired designs and patterns. Along with the fashion, the audience could also enjoy a delicious meal and support the Princess Margaret Hospital Foundation. As for the designers, they were also rewarded with awards. Congrats to all the students and good luck to you on your fashionable journey!
